

The village name Les Diablerets came from the Summit of Les Diablerets mountain in the Swiss Alps which is best known not only as a ski resort area but also for hosting various types of outdoor activities such as sledging, curling, ice skating, hiking, biking, paragliding, canyoning, swimming, golf and tennis. All year round skiing is available due to the region's glaciers, the most popular of which are the small Glacier des Diablerets on the summit and the much larger Glacier de Tsanfleuron commonly known as Glacier 3000.

Many destinations are easily accessible from Chalet Les Pavots which is just a ten to fifteen minutes walk from the bus station and the Les Diablerets train station which connects to all desired destinations.

The train station is about ten to fifteen minutes walk from Chalet Les Pavots.

Water Sports

Chalet Les Pavots is near exiting locations for water sports. The lively flow of the River Saanen with its hidden gorges with its mystical and narrow rocky ravines gives delightful experience for rafting. Or, take a spin on a paddleboat or on the "big banana", or go pike-fishing, motor boating, water skiing, wake boarding, kayaking or catamaran sailing on Lac Lemman.

Fun Things to do with Kids (or the Young at Heart!)

Explore, hike, walk along streams.

Mini-golf at one of the hotels; take a dip in the community swimming pool; visit the playground.

Take the train to Aigle, have lunch, visit the castle and come back.

Visit the Chateau de Chillon - great castle right on the lake. Could take the train there.

Take the "télécabine" up to the Isenau and visit the cows in summer, or ski/snow play in winter.

Take any télécabine anywhere!

Go to the Glacier.

Rent peddle boats in Villeneuve.

Visit the Swiss Vapeur Park in Le Bouveret, near the French border. Follow signs from Villeneuve. Miniature trains circulate in a re-created railway decor in the midst of lush vegetation.

Take the Rive-Bleu Express, a steam engine dating back to Edwardian times, from Le Bouveret to Evian (according to Michelin).

Take a boat ride on Lake Geneva - especially the older boats with the side paddle wheels.

Drive to Gsteig and take the télécabine to lake Sanetsch. Beautiful glacial lake - easy hiking.

In winter, rent sleds at a sport store, take the lift up to the Meilleret and sled down the road. Fun for all ages!!

Visit the organ museum in Roche - has great whimsical organs.

Lausanne - the old town with winding alley ways and stair ways, plus the cathedral.
